

Park Place Technologies Hires HR Leader to Strengthen Team

Cleveland, OH, April 2010 -- We are pleased to announce the conclusion of the Vice President of Human Resources search for Park Place Technologies. Judy Collister has joined Park Place, a leading provider of data center hardware maintenance, where she will work closely with the company's CEO driving the overall talent strategy for the organization, which includes recruitment, retention, development and workforce planning.

Park Place Technologies has seen rapid growth in their business because of its focus on helping companies extend the life of existing IT investments, which has become important to clients as they look for new ways to reduce data center costs in today's economy. Judy's responsibility will be to establish and nourish a stronger workforce by linking corporate goals with relevant human resource programs and solutions, which will play a critical part in the company's continued success.

Working with our client, we clarified their need for a human resources leader with experience in a technology environment where customer service was paramount. Having experience at both large and small companies was also important to our client to give the successful candidate the flexibility to grow and change with their business.

Prior to joining Park Place, Judy served as the International Human Resources Manager and Global HR Business Partner for Intuit and before that, she was the Director of Employee Development for KeyCorp. She received her Master of Science in Leadership from Duquesne University and her BA in Human Resource Development from Notre Dame College of Ohio.
