Fisher & Company Hires New General Manager for Mexico Operation

St. Clair Shores, MI -- September 2009 We are pleased to announce the completion of the search for a General Manager for Fisher & Company's plant in Matamoros, Mexico. Our client is the automotive industry's premier supplier of seat mechanisms with headquarters near Detroit. A family-owned business, Fisher & Company brings three generations of manufacturing experience to today's industry challenges.

A collaborative search effort with our partner in the International Executive Search Federation from Mexico was begun, encompassing both the US and Mexico. Finalists were identified and Fisher ultimately chose Raine Williams to be the new General Manager of the Mexican assembly facility. He will report directly to the company's COO and will be responsible for planning, controlling and coordinating the entire range of manufacturing activities for the company's Matamoros plant. He will be charged with the turnaround of this most critical operation for the company. Fisher is also embarking on an ERP implementation, and Raine will be responsible for the integration of the location's separate departments into a single, productive system within the company.

Raine's professional career includes experience managing a plant in Mexico for Eaton Corporation. Most recently Raine served as a Division Leader for Schindler Elevator in Gettysburg, PA and prior to that as an Operations Director for Monier Lifetile. Raine received his MBA in Global Management from the University of Phoenix and his BS in Industrial Engineering from Florida State University.

About Fisher & Company

Fisher & Company designs and manufactures recliners, latches and specialty mechanisms for passenger vehicles and has manufacturing facilities in North America, Mexico, Europe, India, China and Japan. Their products are assembled and distributed from five locations in the United States, Mexico and China. While the company has been shrinking with the significant downsizing of the automobile industry over the last three years, they remain financially strong and debt free. They continue to invest for the future and are well positioned for recovery.
